MONDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1909.

In spite of the discussion by numerous state papers within the last few weeks of the tonnage tax on ore as an issue in the next state campaign and the fact that the state candidate is backing the scheme, no candidate for gubernatorial honors has come out with a pledge to favor legislation of this character if elected governor. Unless some one offers himself on this platform in the near future the grange may have to put forward a man of its own to champion this proposition. "Jim" Helme seems most concerned; he might enter the race himself.—Lansing Republican.

THE LAURUM PLAYGROUND.

The News congratulates the ladies of Laurum on the progress they have made in the playground movement. To many this project seemed fanciful at first, but those who were skeptical of its success and who thought nothing would ever come of it are now among the most enthusiastic. This change of sentiment has been brought about almost entirely by the efforts of the ladies who have interested themselves in the work. And they have not pushed this movement with any idea of gaining the plaudits of the community, but have been actuated by purely philanthropic motives. Their work so far is most commendable. They secured the Yott estate property at the corner of First and Hecla streets and raised the money to improve it. It has been graded and gotten in readiness for the playground equipment which will be installed next spring. This will be done under the supervision of the ladies who have taken the initiative in the matter, after which it will be up to the Laurum committee to make arrangements for the conduct of the place. The playground is going to prove a boon to tired mothers whose children have no place to play and to the children, too, for it will keep them in good health and their minds occupied with the proper things. The benefits of the playground will be readily recognized by the residents of Laurum when it is put in operation, and The News believes it will hasten work on the public park project for Calumet. Playgrounds and public parks have been found great assets by cities which have them.

EARLY HOLIDAY SHOPPING.

The early shopping plan offers many advantages to the purchaser. In the first place, it gives an opportunity to select from complete stocks. It also makes Christmas shopping a pleasure instead of a hardship. It gives ample

NATURE TELLS YOU

As Many a Calumet Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are sick, Nature tells you all about it. The urine is nature's calendar. Infrequent or too frequent action; Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ill.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ill.

People in this vicinity testify to this Louis Wolfstey, 805 Franklin St., Hancock, Mich., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in my family at different times for several years with good results. I also know of others who have taken them and speak in the highest terms of their benefit."

was very weak and painful when I procured Doan's Kidney Pills but this remedy soon drove the trouble away."

"For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States."

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

time to look around, visit all the different stores and in this way become familiar with the various lines carried. Each store generally has some particular advantage over the other—some special offering that has come to it and the benefit is given to the customer of that particular store.

By beginning your purchases early you can take plenty of time to make wise selections from complete stocks which have been specially provided for this purpose.

Then again, when the holiday buying is crowded into one or two weeks' time, clerks are apt to be greatly overworked and they sometimes become irritable or careless and do not give you the care and attention they should in showing goods or helping the customer to make a profitable and satisfactory selection.

The readers of The Calumet News are advised to watch its advertising columns each evening, as all the leading merchants will have interesting and profitable announcements appearing from day to day.

It is certain that if people will adopt the plan followed in other large cities, and begin shopping early, they will find it to their advantage in many ways.

THE MAN AND THE LAW.

The lynching at Cairo, Ill., shows how thin is the veneer that distinguishes man from the brute. The occurrence shows how narrow is the boundary between respect for the law and disregard of the law. It shows how prone even people in a country supposed to be highly civilized are to jump over this boundary and riot in lawlessness.

The law is society's only safeguard. It is the only thing that protects man in person and property. It is the poor man's safeguard and the rich man's bulwark. The interests of all, even the selfish interests of all, require that both respect the law and insist upon obedience to the law.

The poor man who defies the law or interferes with the course of justice does a thing that will react upon himself and upon his fellows. Even more dangerous to themselves is disregard or violation of the law by men of wealth or by great corporations. They stand in especial need of this protection, for if the law is ever broken down, they and their like will be the first objects of attack. They encourage disruption of society and they invite these attacks upon themselves every time that they violate the law.

Law breaking leads to anarchy. The poor man who violates the law knocks down the props upon which his home is reared. The rich malefactor pulls down the pillars of his temple.

OSBORN AND FULLER.

The statement which has appeared from some source evidently unfriendly to both Auditor General Fuller and Chase S. Osborn, that Mr. Fuller would probably not be renominated in case of Osborn's nomination for governor is certainly not based on republican traditions or party procedure. Mr. Fuller is in the second year of his first term as auditor general. He has shown himself to be a vigorous state officer, intelligent, alert and courageous enough to do what he thinks to be the right thing at the right time, no matter whom it may please or displease. It will be a most desirable privilege for the republicans of Michigan to renominate Mr. Fuller by unanimous action. No other name will be mentioned or will be thought of in that connection. Mr. Fuller lives in Chase S. Osborn's own district. Mr. Osborn was one of his most helpful friends when he was a candidate. Ordinary gratitude will demand that Mr. Fuller should be friendly and helpful to Mr. Osborn, and there is not a man in Michigan regardless of politics with an ounce of red blood in his veins who would not think more of Mr. Fuller and be willing to do more for him because of his favor for one who was friendly and helpful to him at the time when he greatly desired helpful friendship. The friends of Mr. Fuller and of Mr. Osborn need have no fear that evidence of possession of some of the best qualities of our kind, loyalty and gratitude, will have any effect except a good one upon both their candidacies.—Catholic News.

King Manuel II., of Portugal, who is now paying his first visit to King Edward at Windsor, was born at Cintra, near Lisbon, November 15, 1889. Under the supervision of his mother, who is reputed to be the most learned woman among European royalty, he received an excellent education that fitted him well for the high position to which he was unexpectedly called through the assassination of his father and older brother. The young king is said to be especially well versed in philosophy, political science and the physical sciences. He has also displayed an unusual aptitude for mathematics and speaks French, Spanish and Italian fluently. According to rumor the chief purpose of King Manuel's present visit to England is to arrange for a matrimonial alliance with the Princess Alexandra, of Fife, granddaughter of King Edward.

History Lesson.

Diogenes, dear children, was the man who lived in a tub, and who searched for an honest man. "I'm honest," cried a candidate for re-election. "Where's your tub?" asked Diogenes. "Look at my barrel!" cried the candidate. But Di went on hunting.
